

2602241 Introduction to Information Technology and Information Systems 3(3-0-6)
INTRO IT/IS

Introduction of computer and computer applications in business; roles of information technology in solving business problems; concepts and technical background of information technology; planning, development, and management issues of computer-based information system.